AN OVERDONE "HOWL."

It is perfectly natural, and also proper, that new law should be closely inspected and properly criticised, but even when defects are apparent and admitted there is such a thing as carrying criticism beyond the bounds of reason and justice. When this is done, it is a perfectly safe guess that the critics have a purpose in view that is not strictly confined to the public good.

strictly comment to the public good.

Recent, criticisms of the new nell regulating the appointment and fixing the direct of county horizonthreat commissioners has been so seven and so persistently directed at Senstor Pullar, that a sittle candid and unbissed conthat a mitte candid and unbissed consideration of the act seems to be demanded. It has been declared, smong other adverse alst ordered, that the new law will very largely increase the cost of the commission to the country without increasing its usefulness. This concention is not fustified by an inspection of the two acts. It is true that such result might follow, while on the other hand in reasonable to believe that the usefulness of the commission may be infulness of the commission may be increased without increasing its cost in the laist. A greater responsibility rests upon the Board of Supervisors under the new law, and if that responsibility is met as it should be the REPUBLICAN has no besitancy in eaying that the horticultural interests of the county will be better subserved under the new than the old law without increasing the burden upon the taxpayers.

The principal point of superfority in the pay law is that the Board of Super-Visors is empowered to remove a mem-ber of the commission for any cause deemed sufficient, upon a presentation of the facts by twenty-five horticulturists of the county. Under the old law the commissioners were appointed for a term of three years and were removed only for failure to perform the duties of failure, the time for the performance of duties being limited only to the number as readily for putting in unnecessary time and creating annecessary expense duties. This makes the fruit growers and the Beard of Supervisors masters of the situation if they care to perform believe that they will not so perform them. A commissioner who puts in more time than necessary, or appoints more inspectors than are actually required, is just as roadily subject to dismissal as the commissioner who does nothing when his services are required.

commissioners at $4 per day and necesoary expenses. This is an unnecessary increase of companisation, but it will not necessarily increase the total over that created by the old law. Under the latter the ner diem was $5 with no alwill be subject to dismissal for putting in unnecessary time, they can with on-tire propriety be so limited in this re-spect that they will receive less money during the year than the old commission ers, who could not be removed for such ususe. For example, the former com-missioners putting in full time would draw $1560 per annum for their services. At the outside limit there is no neces eity for more than seven months service eity for more than saven months service, which, at the increased per diem, would be $1163 a year, or $577 less than a commissioner could draw under the old law.

Hence, here is the possibility of a savenum description of the possibility of the millione.

The higherty of the millione, the millione of the millione, the millione, the millione, the millione of the millione of the millione, the millione of the m visors the power to control expanses which they did not have under the old law-t power which can be exercised to the great benefit of the taxpayers, and which will be so exercised as long as the people elect faithful representatives to serve upon that board.

The new law also differs from the old in that it requires that the commissioners shall be qualified for their duties and recommended for appointment by twenty-five horticulturists. This is an evident improvement. Neither law provided for the number of inspectors, the new act fixing compensation at $2.50 per day and the old fixing no amount for suc's purpose. With the supervisors empowered to remove a commissioner for extraveguace in this or any other particular, the cust of inspection ace. not arise above the necessities of the eltostim. The amount to be paid for the work is not excessive for men capable of performing it; hence the only require to procedy limit the number of in-

THE ETHICS OF NATIONS.

Apparently Great Britain is about to Apparently treat Britain is allout to add another echievement to be long list of them. Deeds of all kinds, from the high to low, are written in that lengthening record, but perhaps the suprement characteristic of them all is that great groud which would, if it could, dence in the earth in the English be-half. quanties.

It is on the Transvaal that Britain now has fixed her covetous eyes. The country of the Borra has some attractive qualities, and the "right little tight little ide" wants it. It has gold, diamonds, coal and other minerals, and the Englishman wants these things in his business. Hence the downfall of the Transvaal government is among the things witten in the British book of fatts. To this and $1,000,000 has been est aside by the Salisbury government to provide for an increase of military etremyth in South Africa. The Boers

How absolutely in defiance of every law of morality and right such a step will be is best appreciated when one of the world.

How absolutely in defiance of every law of morality and right such a step will be is best appreciated when one of the morality part of the Batch rapublic of South Africa. It is more than sixty years close the Boers, being diseatisfied with the British government of Oape Colony, left that colony and journeyed seroes the Vaal to form a government of their own. At that time the Transvala country was inlabited only by savage tribes, and the first settlers underwent the trials, hard the British lability. After a time it was discovered that it was a country rich in mineral resources which the Boars thas had secured for the meelves, and they were the richer for the discovery. Then the individual Briton learned of this discovery and, as was his right so long as he was willing to subject himself to the laws of the people samong whom he went, sought the Transvaal and a sharein the benefits of the discovery. We say that this was the Englishman's right, as it would have been the right of the citizen of any other country. It was a long ways less right, however, when the Englishmen and some Americans united to wrest the country from the hands of its owners and the resulting defeat of their expedition was a righteous deleat.

And the deed which now appears to be and the Board of Supervisors masters of the stitution if they care to perform their dution, and there is no reason to believe that they will not so perform them. A commissioner who puts in more time than recessary, or ampine unto themselves. ### RANDOM REMARKS.

A mateor fell within a few rade of a Kansae man, but ha thought little o the circumstanco. You see the people luck there are accustomed to having the sky uploose itself on them in almost any cort of way.

That Stockton physician may have stared most insulingly at the woman who whipped him, for that kind of a stare certainly is an odious possibility, but it is questionable if abs bettered matters much with her norsewhip. Probably she is a very good woman, but no horsewhip ever proved anything of the kind.

meet from a 1 economical standpoint is to properly limit the number of inspectors.

Altogether the Republican feels certain that there is enough of merit in the new act to warrant a fair thial before it is condemned. We believe that it was be made to operate without an increased expense, and with better results to the fruit growers than the old law. So far as Senator Podlar's responsibility is cancerned, he assisted other legislators in framing the law, and while it is not in some respects as he desired to mixe it, he considered it the best measures that could be secured at the same saling acrosses the sees with a man while it is not in some respects as he desired to mixe it, he considered it the best measures that could be secured at the board of three provided by the old law, beat in this he was opposed by the representatives from Santa Cara and other fruit growing counties, and had to yield to the majority. The law is not as he desired to make it, but he blieves that the desired to make it, but he blieves that the desired to make it, but he blieves that the fall in of St. Relena Sanitarium health conde at book stend on the camp transition, but dollars, and health loads at book stend on the camp and the laws in the stage in San Francisco. A distinguished American gentle-man who has long resided in Madrid vilked my attention to a book untilled "Anound the World, From Madrid to Madrid," written by Enrique Damy de Lome. As a literary worlt the book is not worth much, but that part of it which refers to the United States will be must interesting to American read-128, who will surely be susprised to learn that the views unon our country arn that the views upon our country the present minister of Spain to Each passenger related his experience in American enstean houses, and all added, "These officials are the meanest and most miserable follows to be found among politicians." They looked as though they thought they had uttered to most offensive words that could be applied to any of their countrymen.

MALONEVIS HAIRBREADTH ESCAPE

For the past few days the trainment along the Cheinnall Southern railroad have been discussing the thrilling experience of Miko Maloney, who on Friday missed falling from the famous High bridge by "less than the skin of his teeth." Maloney himself cannot tell how it happened. He only remembers one sensation of impending and horeible death and an awakening to the fact that he was not dushed to pieces on the rocks or drowned in the flood nearly 300 feet below his train. In accurate figures, High bridge is just 236 feet above high water mark. It is the second highest bridge is the world and spans the Kentacky river where that stream divides Morece and Jessamine counties in Kentacky river where that stream divides Morece and Jessamine counties in Kentacky river where that stream divides Morece and Jessamine counties in Kentacky river where that stream divides Morece and Jessamine counties a Kentacky river where that stream divides Morece in the for which it was responsible, for the railroad keeps a private watchman there all the time. Maloney's experience is, therefore, all the mora remarkable.

Matoncy lives at Georgetown, Ky, and is the end brakenum on train No. 54, which does load freight work between Georgetown and Burgin. Maloney is an old hand at the business, and, like most old hands, takes many risks. Fri-most old hands, takes many risks. Fri-day, as his train was pussing over High bridge, he was on top of one of the cars and running at a protty brisk gait. A recoust shower had made the top of the car a little slippery, but this did not at-tract Maloney's attention. While thus indifferent to his surroundings and va-ministral of the yawning depths, Ma-joney's feet saddenly slipped from be-neath him, and before he knew it he was sliding from the edge of the roof of the car. He gave one despatring look, made a desperate effort to earch a hand hold, missid, closed his oves and lost the car. He gave one despairing room, made a desperate effort to catch a hand hold, missed, closed his eyes and lost consciousness through sheer fright.

Several persons watching the train crossing the bridge witnessed the accidont, and every one sent up a cry of horror. They shuddered, as they expected horror. They chuddered, as they expected to see the man fall headlang into the high waters or dush against the stom-work of the bridge. But Mahanay's heak was with him, and he was saved by a most extraordinary plece of good forture. In his disceent his hands unconsciously grasped the tolegraph whres which run along the eastern side of the heidige, and he caught two of them in a deathlike grip, not knowing what he was doing or where he was. Had he fallen to the other side of his train, there would have been no such good fortune in watting for him, and his journey downward would not have been inneg downward would not have been interrupted.

Maloney hung to the wires, motionless, his feet and legs extending over the side of the bridge. Those who had witnessed his pertious fall hastened to his sid and found him pale and almost lifeless, a cold sweat standling out in great beads upon his forehead. Strong hunds soon grosped the body of the brukeman, and hi a few moments he opened his eyes and became aware of his situation. He seemed dazed for a second or two, and then, remembering his experience, tainted. When he regalated consciouses for the second time, he was completely exhausted, until some time after he was tuken to his home in Georgatown that he was strong enough to control his arms and legs. It was a thrilling experience for Maloney, Ho says that, although he only realized the heartilde possibilities of his accident for the smallest fraction of a second the mental terture that he endured for even that brief space of time will insign the high gance—all of this stood out before him as boldly as the chiffs upon either side of the stream. Hereafter he will crass the bridge in a caboosa—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Unless some official action is taken to have his name draund from the roll before he is name dropped from the roll before he is hanged, he will die a member of that hanged, he will die a member of 1824 granivation.

There is some little feeling among the members of the durch about Durrant's name being permitted to remain on the roll with those of the members of unquestionable standing. From time to fine the question of having his name scratched has been discussed in a general way by the church people, but mover has the subject come up at any of the basiness or midweck prayer meetings. No one seemed to care about taking the initiative for fear of being charged with showing an un-Christian ghirt, and the Rev. J. George Gibson has never encouraged his people to display prejudice or hard feeling toward the young man who was formerly assistant superintendent of their Sunday school.

Dr. Vagel, the clerk of the church, sistant superintendent of their Sunday school.

Dr. Vogel, the clerk of the church, says that although no official action has yet been taken in regard to Durrant's membership he cannot say that none will be taken. The subject may be brought up at any time, or the members may consider it better pelicy to manifest no feeling in the matter and indulgs in no scratching. From members who are in a position to know it was learned that there was little likelihoed of the Emmanuel church members taking official action to have Durrant's man dropped from the register. It was not probable that mything would be done until after the sad termination of the young man's life. Then his name will movely be crossed off the roll as one that is decreased. There is a possibility, however, that before Durrant goes the gallows a committee will quietly be appointed to take action in the matter, but no cepart will be rendered while the young medical student is alive.

appointed to take action in non-inventigation of the point will be randered with the young medical shudent is alive.

Dr. Gibson is as much opposed now to the people of Emmanuel church talking against Durrant and discussing the details of the trajectics as he was during the weeks of excitement following the finding of the badies. Of course he thinks every one cutified to his own opinion, but he is average to having the people as a church taking a decided stand against Durrant.

pinico, one ne os epicales a church taking a decided scopic as a church taking a decided stand agniust Durrant.

The paster of Emmanuel church returned recensly from his vacation and when seen at his residence on Mission street declined to have anything to say about the judgment rendered by the supreme court in the Durrant case. Dr. Gibson has never said anything derogatory about the nurderer of Blanche Lamout, and he thinks it noither Christian nor in good taste at this time for him to criticise or in any way talk for publication against one who had taken so prominent a part in the affairs of Emmanuel church.—San Francisco Examiner.

The space between the rails will be boarded over for a distance of three miles, as it will require nearly one mile to get in motion and another in which to stop. With a locemotive breaking the effect of the wind and removing the air resistance, he expects to cover the mile well under of one nimute and possibly as low as 54 seconds. E. E. The newest of new women and yet one of the olders, if the aborigines may be clusted as "old," was seen on the streets of St. Louis. She was a splendid specimen of womanbood, strikingly handsome and superbly proportioned and was dressed in bleomers, although they differed in style and cut from any worn by the St. Louis bieyele girls. She was an Indian woman, the full bleoded daughter of a chief of the Sioux tripe—one of the fleets and live discontinisty bands which ever troubled the settlers of the west—and her dress was one of the most pendian over seen on the streets of a great city. A dark hat of modern style half hid a quantity of raven black hair on har spleudid head, and a long ulster of the mest recent fashion enveloped her, outlining her fine fligure to advantage. to tax whiskers; Massachusetts also wants all chiropodists to pass a state examination. Michigan and Missouri propose to tax bachelors, and a Missouri legislator has also introduced a bill to penish by heavy fine any widow or unmarried woman who refuses an honorable offer of marriage. Minnesota comes forward with a bill to prevent women from sending flowers to crindmils. Missouri wants to fine midway hands $26 for fixthing with women passengers, and Nobraska asks that all bulls horns shall be removed when the unimals become 3 years old.

Michigan and Indiana demand that bills of fare shall be printed in English only, and a measure was recordly introduced in the Indiana legislatore making it a misdementor to wear squeaking boots to ohnruh. Oklahoma has tried legislation against bloomers, Kansas against corsets and Alabama against slift waists.

The macrament of penance, or, se it is sometimes called, confection, to slimply a part of the system or plan of saivation which Jeans Ohrist established to persent the same thing, the said to make men sharers in the fruits of redemption. Saivation and redemption and the same thing, they are clouly relaxed—one is the cause, the office of the description. Saivation is brought about by applying to the soul the fruits of Redemption, and the sain things. They are clouly relaxed—one is the cause, the office is the effect; in other words, saivation is brought about by applying to the soul the fruits of Redemption, one lord indeed in mr. Saviour because by His redemption for all men to be saved. But saivation is conditional, and besides being conditional is an individual percond matter. Ourist directly and immediately resulted in the saivation is conditional to work out our own salvation. Christ redeemed the two thieves on the creas, and made it possible for both to be saved. Use, we know, profited by it and was exwed; the other can hardly be said to have done so. Christ redeemed that whose so. To become the cone of God—He did not make them sone of God—He did not make tion and a means prescribed by Christ. The accarament of penance is simply one of those means instituted by Christ. It is not to usentially a condition as baption is, but it is a means, or actuambitarough which grace or the merits of redemption are conveyed to the soul.

The Bishop continued: "That Christ instituted the accrament of penance, is clearly evident from the words: 'As the Father sent me I also soul, and when He had add this Ifabrenthes on them and said. Receive ye the Holy Ghost. Whose sine you forgive are forgiven them, and whose sine you retain an retained.' The aposities had bean ordisined priests the evening before Christ suitered, and here lie conlered upca tions the Holy Ghost, and tells them to forgive air and retain sin, it is evidently a discretionary power. ### THE SCHOOL CENSUS.

MARSHAL F. N. CALDERWOOD FILES HIS REPORT.

Total Number of School Children in This City Is 1956.

F. El. Calderwood, who took the exhool ceneus in the city of Fruenc dis-trict, yesterday filed his report with County Superintandent Kirk. It is be-lieved that Mr. Calderwood compiled a very correct statement of the number of children in the city, and his report is an between the ages of 5 and 17 years, is 1956, an increase of 142 over last year. The census apportionment of school moneys is based upon this figure. Next term Freeno will be entilled to 28 tench-ors and 414 000 in the division of ten moneys on the basis of the census moneys on the basis of the census figures.

The followinz is a cummary of the ensus marshalfs report:

Number of white children between 5 and 17 years of age: Boys 923, girls 969; total 18SL.

Number of nogro children between 6 and 17 years of age: Boys 28, girls 30; total 6S.

Native born Mongolians between 5 and 17 years of age: Boys 5, girls 10; total 15.

a. Total number of census children be-ween the ages of 5 and 17 years, 1956. Number of children under 5 years of ge: White 820, negro 26, Mongolian Number of conserva-sage: White $20, negro 28, Mongohan 17; total $03, Number of children between 6 and 17 years of age who have attended public schools at any time during the school year, 18% number who attended pri-vate cachools, 45; number who have not attended school, 257.

Number of native born children 2018, foreign born 171.
Total number of children of all ages in the district 2819.
The gain in the number of white boys between 6 and 17 years of age over last year's ceuse is 71, and of girle 53; negro boys 15, and girls S. The number of Mongolian boys decreased 4, while the girls remained at the same figure as last year. There are 63 more white children under 5 years than there were a year age, the negroes have increased 18, and the Mongolians 7. There is a gratifying decrease; in the number of children who should, but do not, attend school. Lest year there were 312, but Mr. Calderwood's report shows that there are now only 257, a decrease of 55.

PLEADS SELF-DEFENSE

The Defendant Testilles That His Victim Had Attacked Him with a Knife-

The trial of Ramon Melina for the The trial of Ramon Melina for the muridor of Juan Parra in the Cantum creek country in Soptember, 1892, was hegun before Judge Wobb yesterday morning and will be concluded today. The absorber is recovered. morning and will be concluded today. The defendant is represented by W. D. Oriothon and the district attorney's office by Deputies E. A. Williams and George W. Jones. The following jury was selected: S. G. Johnson, George Myers, R. E. Beckwith, D. J. Mullins, J. J. Roadhouse, Levi McNio, C. H., Norris, A. T. Stevens, Jens Larsen, S. W. Norton, J. W. Shipo and E. F. Wolfolk.

Mr. Williams made the opening state-folk.

Mr. Williams made the opening statement for the prosecution, and L. O. Siephene, who was coroner in 1892, was the first witness. He testified that at the inquest on Parra's body he had recoal the curres of the intail builet. It antered at the base of the throat, ranged downward to the lower ribs, where the course was turned upward again. The builet folged in the right shoulder, where it was out out by the witness. Just Tirado, a lad of 13 years, was the principal witness for the prosecution, having been an eye-witness to the full-ling. He was then 8 years old. The boy testified that Parra and Molina bad been drinking together during the day. They had a number of contests of strongth, and Molina was worsted in a wreating match. This made him very angry and he started towards the house. As he entered the door him. The hay looked through a window and saw the murderer go to his badroom, Iring out a pistol and deliberately choot Parra while in the doorway between the front room and the kitchen. The vicinit turned and ield over, dying in a few minimter.

Mohins then rau out of the house and politie road for a short distance. John Wright, a neighbor, who was pneeing by, was attracted to the house by the shot. He nited and was examining the dead hedy when the murder relarned and drawn him a way, pointing a rifle at him in a threatening manner. Wright then west to the house of Frank Wright then west to the house of Frank Lynch, and staid there all night. The next morning they saw Mollin pass by on his way towards San Bentiz country. Lynch and Wright then went to the scene of the nurder and saw a wheel-harrow track leading from the house to the bottom of the creek, which was dry. There tray found the budy of Parra. It had been buried in the sand, but hoge had roughed the creek, which was dry.

Med hen boried in the sand, but hoge had roted it can. Wright testified that when he entered the busse and examined Parra's hady immediately effer the murder he did not find any weapon on the person of the deceased or lying on the iloor. When the presecution closed the defendant went on the stand on his own brinall, and tentified that he shot Parra in sell delenes. He said that his victim had attocked him with a cuseknife, and exhibited scars on his right write and left hand where Parra had not him. The witness had then pulled the pixel and fired.

witness had then pulled his pistol and fired.

The next morning he went to the home of his sister near the New Idria mines, where he estayed eeven months. He then went south and was living at Sau Luis Obispo when irrested a few months caro. Deputy Sheriff Peck had traced him thiner, and Molina was arrested at the Instance of the Freeno officer.

The presecution will cross-examine Molina this morning, after which the attorneys will argue the case.

The sheriff's ollica has heen investigating the record of Molina, who is an old man, and it is bulieved that he has a very dark past. He is said to have been a member of Vasquez's gang of outlines in early days, and to have killed many men. One report is that Molina was an order and shoothirsty that even Vasquez and mot and the other him, and for this reason expelled him from the gang. The information concerning the old man'a career can hardly he concidered authentic, however.

HE STOPPED THE CAR.

Botdler Lies Across the Track Until His Regiment Crosses the Street.

Bannel Morris of Baltimore, first ser-geant in Company E of the Fourth regi-ment, will receive a medal from the of-ficers of the regiment for stopping a car by lying on the track while the regi-ment passed on inauguration day in Washington.

ment passed on inauguration day in Washington.

The beys were marching down Serenth street, when their progress was interrupted by the approach of a cable car. Morris stepped from the line may able the saled the gripman to stop the car so that the regiment could pass along. This the gripman refused to do, and he had no somer started the car than the soldier lay down across the track and dared him to go on. The car moved forward, the fender toached the budy of the man and passled him along a little, but he did not arise, and, in or der to avoid a munder, the gripman brought the car to a standstill. The regiment crossed the street, and as the last man crossed the tracks the soldier arcse and thanked the gripman with mock courtesy and went off un a double quick, while the hundreds of spostators cheered him entimissically.

A RARE PITCHER.

One of the Three Original Washing

One of the Three Original Washington Pitchers Given to Princeton.

One of the mest important additions that has recently been made to the Princeton Art museum is the gift of a Washington pitcher. It was bought by Julius Morgan and brought to the nuseum by Mr. M. Taylor Pyne.

It is one of three pitchers of this style made and was imported by Junics Kitchen, proprietor of the old coffee house on Second street, Philadelphin, and is now probably the only one in existence. It is certainly the rarest of all Washings's pitchers.

The pitcher is was shaped. The neck is ribbed brown, the menthylice a processive head, and the body descent al with medallions. One of these medal lions is a portraft of Thomas Jeffenson, another picture the apothesis of Concad Washington, while the others contain appropriate inscriptions.

Football In Great Britain

Football to Great Britain.

Football is immensely popular in Great Britain, and every half holiday the pame attracts the attention of all classes of people. An international game in Glascow recently between teams representing Scotland and England attracted a crowd of 57,000 people, the gate receipts amounting to upward of $15,000. At mother game near London there were 55,600 spectators. It is needly occurrence in the large Yaffaline and Lancashire middled towns for a crowd of from 20,000 to 30,000 people to watch a game, the prices of admission ranging from 5 cents to 50 cents. In some towns the stores are closed during the pragress of the game.

First American Newspaper.

An antiquary at Ningara Falls has found a controlity in the form of a copy of the Massachusetts Gazette and Boston News Letter of dute of Dec. 6, 1764.

This was the first newspaper published in America and is about as large as a man's lund. Some of the events recorded are of interest new. From Philadel phia, then the metropolis of the country, there is a dispatch saying that a Spanish army, 4,000 strong, is about to take possession of New Orleans. There is the usual notice of a runaway shadend a reward offered for his return to his master, with a warning to the community not to harbor him or assist in his escape.—New York Press.

Of the hard to be wort to the hard to the hard that hund fiver in the early, of the moon that hunds the fills, Of the moon that hunds the fills, Of the moon that the midnight fills fill would I know the gree On love's uplifted face and the slow, sweet joy dawn thore Under the dusk of her hair.

Under the obset on each season.

I pray thou spare me, fate,
The wordul, scenying weight
Of a heart that feels on path
At the sob of the anthum rain,
And takes no breath of give Prom the organ surge of the feedOf a mind where memory broads Over sampless solitudes.
I shall be established

Dainty little garments are being selected by Mrs. Gertrade Vanderbit Whitney, wife of Harry Payne Whitney. The authorhelity of this statement is unquestionable, as a member of the Vanderbit family inadvertently divulged what is still a gaarded secret. The little heir will be among the midsummer arrivals. heir will no among ...

Mrs. Whitney will divide her time, while her mether resides in Washington, between their Washington and New York heares, This interesting news created considerable delight in the hearts of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbill and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Whitney, parents of the young couple.—New York Journal.
